S.A.M. advanced management journal

Index, 1976

Advice to internal and external consultants: Expand your client's capacity to use your help, by Robert H. Schaffer — autumn/p. 39

Are you programmed for success–or failure? by Harold C. White — summer/p. 53

Bridging the corporate communications gap, by Mary C. Bromage — winter/p. 44

Decision by discussion: The uses and abuses of team problem solving, by Corwin P. King — autumn/p. 31

A dollars and common sense approach to MIS, by John J. Davis, David J. Eskra, Alan G. Brown, and Mark A. Goldstein — summer/p. 34

Facts and fallacies about international business, by Donald W. Hackett — winter/p. 38

Facts are fundamental to successful career planning, by Steven Goodman — autumn/p. 61

How to get to the top: A prescription for success from Terrence J. Fox — summer/p. 47

How to sell a new product to industry: Eight guidelines for industrial innovators, by Harold W. Fox — summer/p. 23

How to succeed in the business of finding a job, by Clemm C. Kessler III — autumn/p. 53

Implementing a human resource development plan at HCA — spring/p. 17

Making a life/making a living, by David C. Nichols — winter/p. 52

Management's responsibility to whom? by Hal J. Batten — spring/p. 31

101 ways to discriminate against equal employment opportunity, by Gene E. Burton and Dev. S. Pathak — autumn/p. 22

Operation outdoors — spring/p. 26

OSHA compliance: Let your computer help, by Gordon R. England — spring/p. 35

Packaging–the fifth "P" in the marketing mix? by William G. Nickels and Marvin A. Jolson — winter/p. 13

Playing cards–a serious game of employee communications, by David R. Cox and Roy G. Foltz — spring/p. 42

Project management–a new style for success, by Richard A. Jacobs — autumn/ p. 4

Smoothing the way for managerial changes, by Warren R. Nielsen and John R. Kimberly — spring/p. 4

A strategic planning program for the next decade, by William W. Simmons — winter/p. 31

The transforming influence of a work-quality program, by Sidney Harman — winter/p. 4

What is your organization worth? by Warren J. Ridge — autumn/p. 15

What makes a successful executive: An executive personnel consultant's opinion — spring/p. 49

What's right–and wrong–with today's young managers? by Gordon C. Inskeep — spring/p. 57

Who wants job enrichment? by John P. Wanous — summer/p. 15

Women in management: How is it working out? by Marion M. Wood — winter/p. 22

Zero-base budgeting: Where to use it and how to begin, by Peter A. Pyhrr — summer/p. 4